The topic of the show

This is a show where business women who do business internationally can get inspired, and can learn from other experienced business women. This is a weekly show. Every week there will be a theme where Tineke and her Expert-guest will talk about in relation to doing business internationally.

What if you are the expert on this show?

Imagine you are the expert that Tineke will be interviewing in this powerful series.
Your message will be heard and seen by millions of potential viewers from all over the world.
The show will be hosted on the <http://rhgtvnetwork.com/> in the USA, in collaboration with <http://voiceamerica.com/> The last station alone has over 5 million potential members.
The interview will be featured on the homepage of RHGTVNetwork for 1 week.
It will also be broadcasted on every social media channel of Tineke Rensen and her businesses.

You will get the link so you can showcase the show on your social network and website as well.
At the end of the video, we will showcase your name, the name of your business and your contact details.

The format of the show:

The show will start with a short voiceover with the introduction.

Tineke welcomes all the viewers, and she explains the theme of the week

Tineke will welcome you and introduce you

You can give a brief introduction of yourself and of your business.

Then Tineke asks you a question and a conversation between the two of you starts around the theme of the week. This conversation is 30 minutes. You will know before what the theme is. You relate the conversation to the theme. For example what you need in regards to the theme to do business internationally?

The themes are related to the 8 themes of the Book "Maximum Business Growth for Women" and are:

- Mindset
- Planning
- Branding
- Clever Tools
- Team
- Acceleration Power
- Flow & Ease
- Help & Support

Your investment

What would it be worth to be broadcasted online, worldwide, tot you?

If you are looking for specific connections, you can ask this in the interview. It is not the intention of the show to pitch and sell. It needs to be a conversation about the topic and doing business internationally, which is valuable for our listeners. At the end I give you the opportunity to add one more thing and if you like that is the moment where you can ask the audience for help or something else you'd like to say.

We ask only a small investment for you to be featured in this show of € 200,-
This will cover the cost of broadcasting and editing the video.
